The Higher Mind is rational, reasonable, and thoughtful. On his staff sits the light of higher consciousness, and when the Higher Mind is in the driver’s seat of your being, the light fills your mind with clarity and self-awareness. Wisdom flows through the Higher Mind’s head, and love and empathy radiate out from his heart.

When men seek to know God, and bend their minds according to the capacity of human weakness to the understanding of the Trinity; learning, as they must, by experience, the wearisome difficulties of the task, whether from the sight itself of the mind striving to gaze upon light unapproachable, or, indeed, from the manifold and various modes of speech employed in the sacred writings (wherein, as ...

CHURCH FATHERS: On the Trinity, Book II (St. Augustine)

In addition to being a symbol of purity, fire is also regarded by Zoroastrians as representing Ahura Mazda’s (the supreme god of Zoroastrianism) light or wisdom. Whilst Ahura Mazda is generally said to not have a physical form, but exists instead as a being of purely spiritual energy, his imagery is also rather fire-oriented.
